Createspace, United States, 2011. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 203 x 127 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.A group of influential Americans, who call themselves The Mirror, secretly meet in Washington, D.C. to discuss the final phase of a plan to manipulate the upcoming presidential election in order to have the first African-American elected as President of the United States. As the final phase of the plan is put into motion, one of the presidential candidates, Rev. Martin, is caught up in a sex scandal and ends up committing suicide. The FBI activates its most covert agent, Frank Sharpe, to investigate the matter, because the Director of the FBI has reason to believe that the CIA, or some element deep inside the CIA, might have had a hand in the scandal. Agent Sharpe quickly figures out that something is amiss and begins his quest to sort out who is behind the framing and why. However, the closer Agent Sharpe gets to answering the questions the further he finds himself away from the truth as death and deception is all around him. Soon, the lives of The Mirror are mysteriously in danger and, in a race against time, Agent Sharpe's own life is in danger as he digs deeper and deeper into Washington politics and the allure of power and money. Unsure of whether a lone group, the CIA, a combination of the two or some outside force is trying to manipulate the upcoming election, Agent Sharpe knows that he has to solve the puzzle before it's too late, otherwise, the very legitimacy of our democracy will be at risk.
